THE TAGLI is delighted to present the work of over 20 artists in a new group exhibition, Le Petit Salon, at Cromwell Place, London, from 12 March to 17 March 2024.

Embracing a contemporary use of the special nature of a traditional Salon experience, this exhibition will display a plethora of small-scale works by the artists to draw attention to the meaningful impact that scale and display can have on our engagement with art.

Within the history of artistic creation small objects have always held deep, precious, and personal meanings to us. There is something about scale that changes our focus. By displaying small-scale works across a range of mediums and styles, Le Petit Salon explores the beautiful manner in which small-scale works can alter our sensibilities. They pull us in and push us back, they remind us of the importance of connecting to our space and our body and, ultimately, they invite us to consider our relationship to the work in unique ways.

Small-scale works enliven our senses and lead to wider conversations.

Le Petit Salon presents the works of: Alexander Aitken, Karolina Albricht, Lucrezia Abatzoglu, Katherine Allen, Jared Boechler, Polina Filippova, Luca Guarino, Oliver Hoffmeister, Evie Mae Jacobs, Kris Lamorena, Christie Lau, Chris Mann, Henry Miller, Katerina Murysina, Jon Ridge, Lottie Stoddart, Andreas Stylianou, Yique, Francesca Van Haverbeke, Tom Woolner, Geoff Uglow and Corrie Wingate.

The exhibition will be located in Cromwell Place's Gallery 10. Please join us for the private view on Tuesday 12 March, 6 – 8pm.
